What do we expect from you?

What do you need to be able to do?

- We expect you to have several years' experience driving tractor trailers.
- Experience with manual gearbox is desirable, (Stackbox) but if you can only drive automatic there are also opportunities.
- As a prospective Bulk Driver, you must be willing to learn this particular trade from a colleague during a training course of several weeks.

What are your interests?

- If you are interested in technology and working in an industrial environment, then you might be the new colleague we are looking for.

We require:

- Enthusiastic drivers who can take pride in getting customers' freight to its destination safely and quickly.
- Those drivers should possess driving licence C,E, and completed code 95 training.

What do we offer you?

- Employment with a healthy family business with an excellent track record and good financial results. Sitra has customers who appreciate committed drivers who know how it's done. Sitra is well aware that its drivers are the company's calling card.
- Full-time drivers work a changing schedule in which weekend work and night shifts pass by periodically.
- Part-time drivers can choose their own days within the possibilities offered by the schedule.

Salary:

- We offer our employees a suitable salary according to the TLN collective labour agreement based on knowledge and experience in the D scale.

Secondary employment conditions:

- We keep the code 95 up to date together with our drivers, at Sitra's expense.
- We offer a neat pension provision with the transport pension fund.
